2. This is How We Do COMMUNITY

In this inspiring glimpse into seminary life, we witness the deep joy of living in community — where brotherhood is real, not just a word. There's no competition here, only genuine support from fellow seminarians, the vocation director, and the wider Vincentian family — all walking together toward a shared calling.

3. Mealtime Brings People TOGETHER

Rony, a Vincentian seminarian, shares his love of cooking for his community — not just as a daily task, but as a powerful symbol of life in formation. Just as ingredients blend to create a rich, well-seasoned dish, Rony see how the unique gifts of each seminarian come together to create a vibrant, supportive, and joyful community.

4. Formation Shaped in the CITY

Hop on the subway with a group of Vincentian seminarians as they ride through New York City on their way to Sunday Mass in Brooklyn. For these young men, Sunday isn't just a break from seminary life — it's a chance to be immersed in the heart of the Church.

5. You Heard God's Voice Calling You to MORE

As Vincentian seminarians graduate from St. John's University, they carry more than just the gifts at Mass — they carry memories of deep friendships, professors who challenged them, and students who inspired them. It's a celebration of formation, faith, and a journey shaped by community.

6. Encountering Christ in Those in NEED

Vincentian seminarians open up about their apostolic work in the heart of Brooklyn, New York. From sharing faith and friendship with migrant day laborers in a Home Depot parking lot to bringing Communion to the homebound, they reflect on the powerful impact — and deep emotions — that come with servicing the poor and marginalized.

7. Committed Yourself to PRAYER

Fr. Luis Romero, CM Vincentian Vocation Director, shares how Vincentian seminarians are deeply committed to a life of prayer as they prepare to serve as priests or brothers.
