The Benefits of Partnering with 1-800 WATER DAMAGE

The Power of an Industry Leader

Backed by the power of BELFOR, 1-800 WATER DAMAGE owners benefit from a variety of national (and global) resources to help build their local business. Our 24/7 in-house call center ensures customer calls can be answered even when you aren't available. Partnerships with national vendors help you secure the best equipment and supplies at better rates. Relationships with TPAs help you gain access to more insurance claims in your market.

Comprehensive Training from In-house Experts

Our industry-leading training program focuses onboththe business and technical sides of running a restoration business. In addition to our robust initial training, we also provide ongoing monthly training for IICRC, WRT, ASD, and all other key certifications. Our state-of-the-art flood house plays a central role in all training opportunities, allowing you and your team to gain invaluable hands-on experience and continuously build and refine your expertise.

Dedicated Marketing & Sales Support Teams

Our extensive library ofmarketing assets andresources includes professionally designed print materials, local website management, tools for online reputation management, digital marketing packages, and more. We also have a sales team working in the field to connect you with referral partners and help solidify regional and national accounts.

Nationwide Connections & Support Network

As a 1-800 WATER DAMAGE owner, you are part of a unique network of franchisees who believe in the power of working together to succeed together. Whether that means sharing knowledge or joining forces to expertly tackle large losses, you have an extensive support system in place whenever and wherever you need it. Moreover, as part of BELFOR Franchise Group, you also have a built-in network of partners with our growing family of sister brands, which provides exclusive opportunities to develop valuable relationships and a strong internal referral network. The additional support and resources these connections can provide – alongside the 1-800 WATER DAMAGE home office team – enhance your capabilities as a service provider and gives your business unmatched growth potential.
